Dear Australian Retiree,

I am writing to firmly shake your hand with sincere congratulations on your chosen retirement. We the Australian Government approve, we are extremely happy and hopeful for you.

As true Australians we highly value the knowledge and understanding of history, so sink into your chair as we proudly share the summary of how and why the legislation for anyone to retire at anytime was made real today...

Why have you spent years with soggy pockets or years circled by used tissues, that is not hygiene nor a polite ritual. Its time for you to stay dry and distant from your snot. The Bushmans blow handkerchief allows you to expel of your mucus and leave it behind to do environmental wonders. Why have you spent years with soggy pockets or years circled by used tissues, that is not hygiene nor a polite ritual. Its time for you to stay dry and distant from your snot. The Bushmans blow handkerchief allows you to expel of your naturally Plastic Loaves said yes.

Now that you have an opinion its time to reveal to you the function behind each Plastic Loaves retirement garment, roll out the yoga mat and prepare with stretches.

The Talking shorts -

Wondering why you were requested to exclusively select your favorite words which best represent you and notify us in your retirement text message, well this is why.

On the inside of each removable Velcro pocket are your words. Allow for amnesia and forget about the rest. Communicate with only what you love, save your breath.

The Smoko dress -

Its time to stop watching the clock, its time to stop setting yourself goals before your next snack. With the Smoko dress you can be a cow grazing in the field all day. Stock your pantries but stack your Smoko dress. At the first sign of peckishness plonk your bum where you feel is best. Smoko will commence at your leisure.

The Bushman's Blow handkerchief -

Why have you spent years with soggy pockets or years circled by used tissues, this is not hygiene nor a polite ritual. Its time for you to stay dry and distant from your snot. The Bushman's blow handkerchief allows you to expel of your mucus and leave it behind, also doing environmental wonders. Even indoors the benefits of mucus on a dull surface are remarkable.

The Thinking headgear -

We accept you, we understand that everyday our brains are squished with more and more, with and without the nod of approval. The Thinking headgear creates a barrier not allowing any new information in. Its time to be content with what we got/what we know. The thinking headgear takes the pressure off. Enjoy. Plus the power of the thinking headgear allows you to relive moments like your own birth.

Now that you are ready to make the transition into your sustainable retirement, we wish you good luck and anticipate your presence at the annual retirement rave.

Yours sincerely
